1. Back Ground of the Project:

The Project is targeting Displaced Rohingya Peoples (DRP) and host communities in the affected areas of Ukhiya and Teknaf to ensure lifesaving Gender Based Violence (GBV) services and prevention activities to mitigate the GBV. UNFPA is the United Nations sexual and reproductive health agency to implement Providing Quality GBV Prevention, targeted to access basic services and aims to focus on developing community considering for protection groups, empowering community to provide a safe community for their women and girls and Response for the Rohingya and Host Communities in Cox's Bazar to increase community wellbeing along with NGO (Mukti Cox's Bazar) financed by World Bank.

The project, with the expansion of comprehensive GBV services, bringing new community mobilization approach SASA (start awareness support action). Together, where it involves everyone and engages a critical mass of people across all levels of society in order to create social norm changed, social cohesion between refugee and host communities will be fostered by facilitating joint activities between communities; by extending more assistance to host communities in Ukhiya and Teknaf.

Twenty Women Friendly Spaces (17 for Rohingya refugees, two for host community, one mixed) serving the camps and host communities, providing them access to midwifery and other important services for protection and well-being index over time.

This screening report has been prepared for 6 WFS under UNFPA which are operating (partial) as 1 rented house and 5 rented open places have been selected for construction and improvement in DRP camp. These establishments will improve by the UNFPA targeted to access basic services and aims to focus on developing community considering for protection groups, empowering community to provide a safe community for their women and girls. EMCPR has been targeted to improve high risk population and marginalized groups into all the activities of GBV prevention for the displaced Rohingya population and host communities. These screening reports are being prepared for 6 WFS situated in DRP camp following the guidelines of ESMF and RPF. Detail's list of sub projects is mentioned below (SL # 2). LGED & D&SC team has conducted social screening as per suggestion of World Bank & UNFPA and results indicates that 1 selected rented places will be constructed for WFS building and 5 WFS will be improved in rented open space.

4. Project Goal and objectives:

Goal: Advance gender equality, women's and girls' empowerment and reproductive right, including for the most vulnerable and marginalized women, adolescent and youth right will be ensured.

Objective: Gender Based Violence in Emergency (GVBiE) Project aims to save the lives and dignity of the women and girls from Rohingya and host communities as well.

5. Methodology

A team consisting of social and environment Specialists of PMU and a design & supervision consultant visited the 6 sites of WFS and conducted focus group discussion (FGD) with relevant stakeholders and participated in formal and informal interactions with host community and the DRP Camp Rohingya peoples. A structured questionnaire was used to obtain necessary primary data relating to location and land acquisition requirement, land ownership, losses of land, assets and other factors. Further information's were gathered through interviews of key informants and most importantly stakeholder consultation meetings through a FGD approach to capture the female and male people's opinion and feedback about the WFS improvement.

6. Summary of Key Findings:

6.1 Summary impacts:

Proposed WFS will be improved on a part of existing established rented house and newly construction of rented open place. All are established in a private place which is rented by UNFPA and its local partner Mukti Cox's Bazar. An agreement has been made in between land owner and implementation NGO Mukti (See Annex-30). Social Screening survey confirmed that 1 WFS will be established rented building and another 5 WFS will be established in a rented open place. Social Screening surveys found that in open place there are fully vacant place, so no trees which are require to cut off & mitigation measures shall be needed according to RPF. We would like to mention that. Based on results of social screening it has confirmed that CPR structures will not be affected. WFS will not cause any negative livelihood impacts; even WFS will not affect any structures, Community properties or any assets.

We are expecting the following potential positive impacts may achieve during WFS functioning such as;

- Individual women and girls are participated in the awareness and information session at the WFS and received information on different WFS services, referral and awareness on different issues including GBV, PSS and COVID-19 prevention messages. As per Information has been collected in November 2020 that, 36 awareness and 12 consultations has conducted and more than 250 women girls and adolescent was attended in the program, see attended picture in Annex-11.
- They received integrated service and expressed their satisfaction that came from the Client Satisfaction Survey.
- Women and girls took part in psycho social support activities. These activities provided opportunities for social networks, solidarity building among women and girls contributing to their safety, healing and restoring their dignity as well.
- Women and Girls received services for the first time from WFS. Like; COVID-19 related awareness session, Dignity Kit, Case management, PSS activities, referral service, WASH support and also for socializing/leisure. It will be changed their lives a lot.
- Women and adolescent will be reached through community mobilization. Especially focus on Persons with Disabilities (PWD) and their family members and activated women support group members as well.
- By awareness sessions for disabled women learnt about their abilities and felt confident. Raised awareness among themselves about the information and services as their needs and knew where they have to go for getting these services. Side by side a role was broadly discussed about caregivers as the PWD household members. After conducting sessions, the caregiver committed to extra care for the PWD and now they believe that PWD individuals can also contribute to the family as well as society.

Even though, we are anticipating and conscious about the possible impact may be occurred during construction of 3 WFS tin shed building and obviously take necessary steps as against the impact and will resolve public issues by working with the DRP camp and host community to address the potential impacts as such;

- Rapid changes in the price of necessary goods due to influxes workers. It also leads to abrupt changes to livelihood systems.
- Due to recruits' male workers from outside Rohingya people may face many new diseases. It may cause of some potential risk of GBV/ new diseases. LGED has assured the community that, the construction contractor shall be look after the matter and to take mitigation measures.
- Unexpected loss of social and cultural relationship between social groups may hamper

However, due to change of alignment or if any new impacts are identified, mitigation measures will be taken according to RPF and ESMF. No tribal people are identified during screening. No squatters will be affected by the project.

The social team has been felt that the process of on-going communication and public involvement ultimately aided in streamlining the process by dealing with issues before they became problems. Overall, the project impact will be positive.

6.2 Existing Scenario of Proposed WFS:

The project does not have any land acquisition or population displacement, as 1 (One) WFS will be operated in existing monthly rented houses and 5 WFS will be operated in open places which will be constructed by UNFPA. As WFS are being established within the DRP camp 6 (Six) no's and consulted by several meeting which are reflected in consultation outcomes table-2. During screening, one open place found some trees other open places are vacant fallow land, no Common Properties or any other permanent assets will not be affected by the project. However, during implementation, if any impacts are identified, those will be addressed following the guidelines of EMCRP RPF and ESMF. Scenarios of key findings are attached in Annex-1.

6.3 Users Opinion:

In view of consultation with the host and DRP camp communities it has revealed that, after establishment of these proposed WFS the Gender base violence will be decreased at servings and fulfill access related need's goal. Health facilities for women and adolescent will be increased and by awareness sessions for disabled women learnt about their abilities and felt confident and female and girls will get benefit for these WFS particularly for the pregnant mother(s) and serious patients. Because there are 2 doctors for 6 WFS and 1 midwife for each WFS, 5 Case workers for each WFS, 1 case Manager for 6 WFS and 8 Volunteer for each WFS are available in WFS within office hour.

6.4. Construction induced impact issues:

Since, 3 WFS is being implemented in private-owned rented land, there is no land acquisition needed but when construction new semi pacca building some trees shall be needed to cut off to implement these projects. However, during construction of WFS heavy vehicles for carrying construction materials may cause damage of road or assets. If any damages are reported, UNFPA will hold consultations with host community with contractors to take mitigation measures according to ESMF and RPF.

In addition, UNFPA has been suggested to construction contractors that to avoid damage of connecting roads, contractor shall be mobilized construction materials along strong paved road or highway then bring it at site by small motorize and non-motorize vehicles or using alternative.

6.5 Construction Yard and Requisition of land (if required):

The UNFPA has conducted necessary consultations with stakeholders regarding the construction yard. As discussed, it has been confirmed that the contractor will use vacant government land as a construction yard during the construction of WFS tin shed building. In the event that the contractor needs additional land for the construction yard and no government land is available, land can be rented from the private landowners for a certain period. However, if UNFPA prefer to requisition the land, the following steps will be followed.

For requisition of land for temporary purposes, the Acquisition and Requisition of Immovable Property Act 2017 (ARIPA) is the principal legislation governing eminent domain land acquisition and requisition in Bangladesh. The Act requires compensation to be paid for: (i) vacating the requisitioned property (ii) reoccupying the property upon release from the requisition (iii) damaged, the cost to the property during the period of requisition including the expenses that may have to be incurred for restoring to the original condition.

Under the ARIPA 2017, The Deputy Commissioner (DC) determines the value of the requisitioned assets under section 22 (1) and 22 (2) with due consultation with the landowners. According to section 22 (6), requisition is allowed only for 2 years. If land is required more than 2 years, a new contract is required with the land owners with an agreed compensation rate. Under section 23, DC will pay the compensation to the land owners. If the land requisitioned has standing crops cultivated by a tenant (Market Price) under a legally constituted written agreement, the law requires that compensation money be paid in cash to the tenants as per the agreement. Under no circumstances, land requisition is not allowed due affecting residential and community properties. However, under section 20, requisition is only allowed for emergency road repairing. Any losses for structures, trees, and business will follow the provisions of ARIPA 2017.

However, land will not be required for constructor because there is available vacant land for the owner of rented open space.

6.6 Impact Mitigation Measures:

Apart from the land required for the WFS, more land is required for the WFS construction sites for establishing temporary facilities, such as contractor labor shed, materials stack yard and store etc. In such cases, the contractor can arrange land for temporary works from outside of the alignment. At the WFS sites where work will begin, UNFPA will make sure the land is free and available in consultation with the owners are adequately compensated in cases of private land being used, without subjecting them to undue influence or force.

In addition, the contractor will make sure construction area is clearly marked with signage as construction work underway. All signage shall be provided with good conditions with ease of movement and adequate space.

7. Consultation

Consultation involves interaction with relevant stakeholders to inform them about the WFS projects. Involving stakeholders in the process will ensure that the opinions and concerns of various groups are taken Disclosure of all relevant project information during consultation processes with concerned DRP camp and host community absolutely crucial. The involvement of relevant stakeholders in the WFS implementation process will help to build a sense of belonging within the DRP camp. Furthermore, establishing and maintaining an effective Grievance Redress Mechanism (GRM) would enable any affected parties to present their issues and gain equitable solutions to their problems by impartial hearing.

Issues of social safety are important during the construction period of 6 WFS making. Before starting construction work, the stakeholders to be engaged for the construction of WFS will undergo a short orientation course (to be organized by the contractor) on necessary awareness, motivation and compliance of their assigned responsibilities properly.

11. Conclusions:

In conclusion, it can be clearly determined that the WFS will generate tremendous positive impacts for the host community and DRP camp, even peoples of the respected areas will get easy health services in improved environment. Particularly, will ensure the survivors centered approach to offer comprehensive GBV case management services, integrated SRH-GBV services, GBV prevention activities, PSS group activities, individual PSS support, MHPSS support for GBV survivors and women and girls at risk. Adolescent specific curriculum will be implemented to build life skill of the adolescent girls. GBV prevention messages, activities, lifesaving information, referral services to other service points for GBV and NON GBV survivors, structured skill development programme for women and girls through women lead community centers, social mobilization activities through SASA methodology will be ensured in 6 locations of host and DRP settings. GBV response program will be ensured through establish the women friendly spaces for the

Annex-10: At a Glance Public Consultation of 6 sub-projects (WFS)

There are some PRA tools that are used for collecting data such as; FGD, key informant interviews, social screening form (SSF). In public consultation meetings that are held at sub-projects level, project beneficiaries and stakeholders have been properly informed about project related information. In addition, effective mitigation measures have also been reflected in SMP in SL. # 15.

4. Conclusion:

In conclusion, it can be clearly revealed that all selected places where WFS will be constructed and established is very good in terms of geographical features, easy communication, law and order situation, safety & security both for DRP and Host communities' women and girls. Local people love to call WFS as "Shantikhana" for women and girls; therefore, selection of place for WFS is well perfect in the local context of Ukhya and Teknaf Upazila under Cox's Bazar district. Gender based violence (GBV) is seeing one of the biggest problems to the women and adolescent girls. These WFS is expected to mobilize the local destitute women and girls and scope to educate them with different issues. So, they can tackle the situation by taking effective steps as against any sorts of discrimination and humiliation. Besides, these 57 platforms will allow them to interact with fellow women and girls on contemporary local societal issues in relation to women and girls and will able them to mitigate those issues through collective initiatives. Therefore, establishment and functioning of WFS is expected to bring tremendous socio-economic and cultural benefit for the women and girls of selected WFS catchment area.

WFS services:

GBV program: IRC provides case management service under GBV response service and implements Girl Shine, EMAP, SASA! under GBV prevention activities in the WFS of camp 6. Under the support of UNFPA, IRC will be implementing SASA!, community outreach, GBV case management and SRH services.

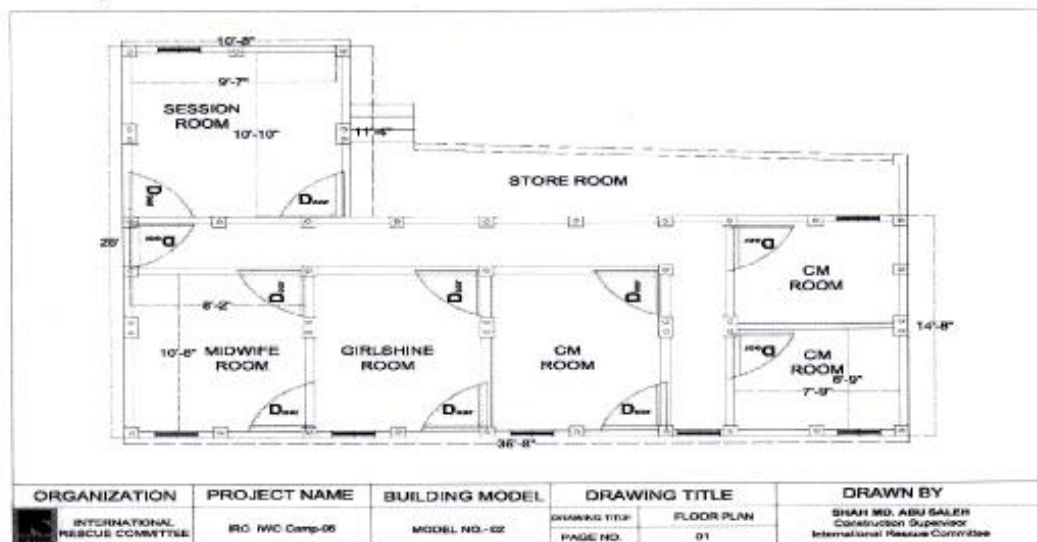

- SASA! is a comprehensive and systematic approach to community mobilization that seeks to address violence against women and girls by engaging communities in dialogues through unpacking both positive and negative power and the impacts of both upon women and girls. SASA! uses four strategies: local activism, media and advocacy, communication materials, and training—with the specifics of intervention activities evolving in response to community priorities and characteristics. In the initial phase, community activists (CAs), men and women interested in issues relating to violence, are selected and trained. These activists then work through the subsequent phases of the SASA! curriculum with a central focus throughout on discussions of 'power'. After being introduced to new ways of thinking about power and being encouraged to think about gender-related power imbalances in their own lives and communities, the CAs engage their communities in the same critical reflection—not only about the ways in which men and women may misuse power, with consequences for their relationships and communities, but also how people can use their power positively to foster change at an individual and community level.
- GBV case management is a structured method for providing logistical and emotional support and follow-up to a survivor through which their problems are identified, they are informed of options available to them, and provided with referrals when necessary. In our own programming, with survivor centered, Do No Harm approaches at its core, the IRC provides quality case management services including psychosocial support (PSS) and referral services especially for the Clinical Management of Rape to GBV survivors. Our midwives and case workers work hand in hand to support the GBV survivors while maintaining the survivor's confidentiality. As an active member of GBVIMS Task Team, the IRC ensures storage, analyzing and sharing the data and report through sticking up to information sharing protocol (ISP) to understand the overall GBV situation. IRC also does service mapping on a regular basis.
- Dignity kit distribution: IRC distributes dignity kits on need basis, especially the GBV survivors who comes for case management service in camp 6.
- Community Outreach: As part of prevention programming, IRC volunteers go door-to-door to provide information on GBV risk mitigation and other information including COVID 19.

A short profile of Women Friendly Space (WFS): The IRC's innovative IWC's provide an integrated, multi-sector package of essential services enabling women and girls to access life-saving protection and sexual and reproductive health services and support in one center. The centers, which are completely run by female staff and volunteers, are safe spaces in which beneficiaries can access the services they need in a safe, dignified, and confidential manner. Ensuring accessibility to the facilities and services of the multiple intersectional identities is one of the major priorities of IRC. GBV response and prevention is at the heart of the activities and the center which is staffed by trained service providers including case workers and midwives, to whom women and girls can safely disclose their individual experiences of GBV. In addition to these essential services, the IWCs offer women and girls a space in which to feel comfortable and enjoy the freedom to express themselves without the fear of being judged or harmed. Community mobilization interventions such curricula designed for adolescent girls and men and boys are also effective interventions to prevent diverse types of abuse, including physical and sexual intimate partner violence (IPV), emotional aggression, and controlling behaviors. These prevention interventions help to change attitudes and norms supportive of violence against women, promote gender equitable behaviors, and economically and socially empower women.
